

Fall 2008 Honors Courses!

Honors courses are special sections of classes at the College of Southern Idaho that have been designed and implemented with serious students in mind! These courses allow students to fulfill general education or major requirements just as any other class would, but to do so in an environment with other students who share the same academic goals. These aren't classes that require MORE work; rather, they are classes that offer DIFFERENT work. More project-based learning, more independent discussion and conversation, more student-professor interaction, and more reading of primary research are just a few of the approaches that characterize an honors section. Further, these classes are specially designated on transcripts and look great for resume building and transfer applications. Absolutely anyone can register for an honors section! Please take a moment to consider this great opportunity and adventure.

COMMENTS FROM STUDENTS ABOUT HONORS CORE CLASSES

"I took the honors section of English 102. It was a challenging and enlightening course, and I believe out of all of my English classes, this has been the one that made me think the most. This class will help me out in the future!"

"Loved COMM 101! It's more in-depth, but not more work just because it is an honors course.....and all of the students wanted to be there. What a great environment. Thanks!"
