“Creating Connections” is the theme for this year’s CSI Foundation, Inc. Annual Report. Students at the College of Southern Idaho are the beneficiaries of the connections that the College and the CSI Foundation create. In this report you will find many stories about how these connections have changed our students’ lives.

The connection between donors and the students at CSI is vitally important. The generosity of donors listed in this report has enhanced the ability for students to achieve their dream of a higher education without incurring staggering debt. Some of the donors listed have chosen to establish an endowment to perpetually fund scholarships for students. Others chose to give annual gifts in order to support scholarships and programs at the College of Southern Idaho. You will also read about how one family not only created current endowments but also executed a planned gift so that they could continue to change the lives of students beyond their own lifetimes.

Donors and scholarships then connect students to the College of Southern Idaho. The cost of a college education is a barrier to many students seeking a higher education. However, CSI can be the answer to that challenge as our tuition and fees are very reasonable when compared to other institutions. Students who attend CSI get a top-notch education at a very affordable price. Scholarships bring even more students to our doors by alleviating many financial restrictions.

Graduates from CSI form their own connections. Whether they enter the workforce immediately after graduation or choose to further their education at a four-year university, they form new allegiances and partnerships. Connections also happen within their own families. First-generation college students now encourage other family and friends to seek an education at CSI which changes the dynamics in our community as well. And our graduates go on to be positive influences in our community, our state, and our nation.

And it all began with the connections created by you, the donors. We are deeply appreciative of the donors who have supported the students at CSI for the past 27 years through gifts to the CSI Foundation and respectfully ask you to continue to provide scholarship support for CSI. The future for our students is ripe with endless possibilities thanks to your generosity. Thank you.

I always knew that I wanted to achieve a higher education after high school but I knew that my financial resources were limited. After looking at different institutions of higher education I decided to attend CSI. I liked the idea of going to a smaller school with affordable tuition and quality education. I was especially excited about the vast support that the CSI Foundation gives students. The CSI Foundation has generously supported my education and has made it possible for me to focus on my education without having to overwork myself in order to pay for all of my college expenses alone. Thanks to the Foundation's support I have the time and ability to give back to CSI by being the ASCSI Vice President and by being involved in various student-led organizations.

There are a lot of reasons why I picked CSI as the beginning stage of my career. I graduated from Canyon Ridge High School my junior year when I was the vice president of our class. I planned to graduate early so I could start college. I was looking at other colleges but CSI was my first priority, because I live here in Twin Falls with my parents, so I just decided to stay and get my Associates degree. I had classes picked out, but I was scared about the cost. I took 20 credits this semester because I want to get done in 2 years. That’s person Graydon Stanley, to take according to my situation. He helped me apply for many scholarships which helped me out a lot. I got the Pell Grant, the New Hope Scholarship, the Dorothy Bacon Memorial Scholarship, the Presidential Scholarship, and the Idaho Promise B Scholarship. Since I am involved in Student Government this all helped me pay for my 20 credits and my book fees. I really appreciate all the help or I wouldn't be where I am right now. So thank you.

I chose to attend the College of Southern Idaho for many different reasons. I believe it is one of the best decisions I have made as a young adult and I have greatly enjoyed my educational experience. I love the teacher to student interaction. Having teachers who know my name and care for my education is very important. I have yet to meet a teacher who has not shown interest in my success in class. CSI is very active in creating educational and entertainment activities which I believe is important because it keeps students engaged. CSI is the best community college!

I chose the College of Southern to get a degree so that I could start a career. Soon after I began my first semester I soon realized I could have success in academia and all I had to do was to apply myself. That first semester I earned a 3.0 GPA and wanted more, and I worked for it. I have been on the President’s and Dean’s list since and still wanted to see what I could achieve. I got my GPA over a 3.5 and have joined Phi Theta Kappa and the Honors Program in hopes to achieve more than my wildest dreams thought possible. The Honors Program has given me the best opportunity to explore the things of a finer nature. I have been exposed to the Arts on Tour events, lectures and a variety of speakers and musicians. These are things I normally don’t go to so an invisible barrier has been taken down to reveal a path to enlightenment.
CSI Foundation Creating Connections through Friend-Raising!

The CSI Foundation kicked off a year-long plan to raise friends and awareness for the students at the College of Southern Idaho with the Presidents’ Gala in January 2011. Hosted by CSI Foundation President Adrian Boer along with CSI President Jerry Beck the Foundation celebrated the generosity of donors who had chosen to establish a scholarship endowment during the previous year. Ten donors were honored for their gifts during the event. Honorees included Adrian and Linda Boer and family, Kent and Cindy Collins, First Federal Savings Bank, Marge Hoops, Idaho Power, Jerry and Barbara Beck, The Danny Marona Performing Arts Board of Directors, the Alice Parker Trust, Robert and Susan Williams, and the Associated Students of the College of Southern Idaho. Each of the donors invested $10,000 or more in a scholarship to benefit the students at the College of Southern Idaho.

Expanding Friendships in the Wood River Valley

September found the CSI Foundation in the Wood River Valley expanding friendships at the Sun Valley Inn. This wonderful luncheon was hosted by CSI Wood River Board Members Lynn Askew and Jennifer Haemmerle along with Jenny Emery Davidson, CSI Blaine County Center Director. Close to 50 guests attended the event and learned about the CSI Blaine County Center and CSI partnerships in the Wood River Valley. This event also showcased a new category of Foundation Board members for the Wood River Valley. The Wood River Valley Foundation Board members will also join the Blaine County Center’s Advisory committee in order to play a more active role in their geographic area.
Your donations make a significant difference to a CSI student. When you give the gift of a scholarship, you are not only supporting our students financially but also changing the future for the student and their entire families. Your generous donations have helped past, present and future CSI students creating community connections that will be forever. Thank you for helping a CSI student!

I have high expectations of myself and reaching my goals isn’t something to rush. The reason I am going to CSI is to take those baby steps in order to ensure my accomplishments. Wasting money isn’t something that I like to do, and going to the College of Southern Idaho gives me more of an opportunity to save money. The CSI Foundation scholarships have given me hope to uphold these expectations of myself so I won’t need to stress about whether or not I can afford to fund my education. I’m incredibly thankful to have been blessed with scholarships to obtain the education I need to be one step closer in sealing the success of my future.

I am one of the refugee students who came to the United States of America with the help of different international agencies (UNHCR, and IOM) and the government of the United States. The CSI refugee program helped me and my family for our accommodations and to learn about the place. Through the refugee program at CSI, I got chance to enroll in college. When I started college different people, especially Edit Szanto, helped me apply for financial aid and for different other scholarships. Then, I received financial aid and the Kroll Family Scholarship which helped me to pay the college tuition fee, and to buy books and other necessary materials. I am very pleased to be here at CSI because I have been given a chance to go to college and shape my future.

Likewise, with the help of my English 102 instructor I was able to enroll in the CSI Honors program and it helped me socially to know about America and the American cultures. Overall, CSI and the CSI Foundation has opened the door for refugee people to achieve their goals and shape their future. All instructors here at CSI are really nice, helpful and supportive too. I am really glad to be a CSI student and I encourage others to attend the College of Southern Idaho.

14th Annual CSI Foundation Black and Gold Ball

“Infinite Connections” was the theme for the 2011 Black and Gold Ball held on Saturday, April 16, at Canyon Crest Dining and Event Center. This wonderful event was the 14th annual ball for the CSI Foundation and was hugely successful. This was the largest event ever for the Foundation and, thanks to generous donors, over $101,000 was raised that evening. Among those purchasing scholarships was the Associated Students of the College of Southern Idaho. In 2010 they began a Student Leadership Endowment with an initial gift of $10,000 which the Foundation matched. At this year’s event, they pledged an additional $10,000 bringing their endowment total to $30,000. What a wonderful gift from the students at the College of Southern Idaho.

As a student from a graduating class of 52 students, I wanted a good transitional school. Through research about CSI, I became more and more convinced that this was the school for me. I fell in love with the campus, the teacher to student ratio, the housing options, and not to mention the cost of attending CSI. Now, after having been here for 2 years, I know that I made the right choice in choosing CSI as my first college. I’ve gained friendships and experiences that I will never forget, one of those experiences is the Honors Program. The Honors Program has helped me expand my college experience and has helped me financially. The scholarship money I receive from the Foundation gives me that extra (mph) I need when expenses become overwhelming, and truly is an encouraging factor to continue on with my education. Without the scholarship money provided from the Foundation, as well as other sources, I would not be where I am today. I contribute a great deal of my success here at CSI to the fact that I did not have to struggle financially, allowing me to put my focus and efforts into my classes.
Hello my name is Tayllor Gipson and I am from Los Angeles, California. I chose College of Southern Idaho because I wanted to get away from home, and because of the many scholarship opportunities. CSI was also the only out of state college with dorms that was offering to pay for my education. The reason the dorms were important to me when I made my decision was because I wanted to get the full college experience. College of Southern Idaho gives out scholarships for many things which is very helpful. If it wasn’t for that I wouldn’t be attending college because my family and I can’t afford it on our own. The Foundation scholarship has and is still helping me accomplish my goal of completing college in a less stressful way and is much appreciated.
Title III Matching Grant $5 Million Dollar Luncheon

In 1991, the CSI Foundation participated in a matching grant program with the Department of Federal Education. If the Foundation could raise $500,000 then the Title III Matching Grant program would match those funds 2:1 and put $1 million into an endowment. So former Executive Director, Joan Edwards, former Foundation President, Lee Wagner, and President Emeritus of CSI, Jerry Meyerhoeffer, and the entire Foundation Board worked to raise the needed funds. On June 6, 1991, the endowment was created. The terms of the endowment stated that the principal must be invested for 20 years and that the Foundation could only use half of the endowment earnings in any given year with the rest being rolled back into the corpus. In May of 2011, the endowment agreement was completed and the funds, now totaling over $5 million, became unrestricted for Foundation use. A celebration luncheon was held in July 2011 with many of the original Foundation board members in attendance.

Mini-Cassia Center Celebration

The CSI Foundation Board of Directors held their summer board meeting on June 14th at the Mini-Cassia Center in Burley. Not only did they enjoy touring the Mini-Cassia Center but they also honored Sheila Adams, retiring CSI Foundation Board Member, with a community celebration at the Center. A large number of community members attended to tour the facility, share lunch, and hear about the programs and students at the Burley Center. Currently close to 2,000 students attend classes in Burley and it is one of the most vibrant outreach programs for the College.
I have been giving to the CSI Foundation for as long as I can remember. The main reason that I have been so faithful in my giving is that the Foundation has never lost its vision for why it exists at the College of Southern Idaho—to promote life-long learning opportunities for students and faculty at the College.

Millions of dollars have been raised over the many years and, as a result, numerous Academic and Professional-Technical programs at the College have been strengthened, allowing countless students an enhanced educational experience. As the former Financial Aid Director, I personally visited with hundreds of students who said that it was the scholarship they received from the CSI Foundation that made it possible for them to progress on their life dream. I am pleased to have been part of that fulfilling effort of the CSI Foundation. I can only offer my hope of continued strength and success to the CSI Foundation as they help people grow and prosper in their lives.
Asset management is an important function of the Foundation. It includes oversight of investments. At least as importantly, it also includes a balancing of long-term strategies: optimizing the annual disbursement of scholarship dollars while enhancing the value of core resources. Over time, the Foundation has been able to disburse scholarships while increasing assets under management.

When I decided to pursue a college degree, attending the College of Southern Idaho was an obvious choice for me. First of all, I am a dedicated husband and a father of two young children, and my family and I have always called Southern Idaho our home. As a CSI student I am able to conduct my studies without dragging my family away from its roots. More importantly, CSI offers student-oriented, state-of-the-art education programs at a cost that I can afford. This affordability is in large part due to the many financial-aid systems available to me as a CSI student, including Federal Stafford Loans, Pell Grants and of course, a variety of scholarships offered through the CSI Foundation. As my wife and I struggle to balance work, school and the raising of our children, we benefit tremendously from these support systems. For example, I recently became a member of CSI’s honors program, and the CSI Foundation and the Bordewick Honors Fellowship awarded me with the Bordewick Honors Scholarship. This generous gift has been a priceless contribution to my cause, covering a large portion of my family’s cost of living for the coming year. As a result of the reduction in my family’s financial burden, my wife and I have been able to dedicate precious time and energy to our studies; time and energy that would have otherwise been devoted to working for wages. In fact, without vital financial support systems such as those offered by the CSI Foundation, my wife and I would not be able to continue our education. Words cannot express my gratitude for the charitable actions of each member of the CSI Foundation, the Bordewick Honors Fellowship and others who have selflessly worked to aid me in accomplishing my scholastic ambitions. It is precisely that type of altruistic behavior that makes the College of Southern Idaho a perfect educational institution for me and thousands of other students.

Total amount of scholarships awarded to CSI students in the past three years

- 2009: $1,186,012
- 2010: $1,147,092
- 2011: $1,053,851

Hello, my name is Jessica Lopez and since I’ve been accepted into the College of Southern Idaho’s (CSI) honors program, I am able to attain a better educational experience with the help of the CSI Foundation. The CSI Foundation has helped me accomplish many of my goals through the scholarships that have been provided to me. To begin with, I chose CSI not only because it was a college close to home, but also because CSI cares for its community. In addition, it enables me to get a great education in a smaller class atmosphere with knowledgeable professors. This Foundation has helped me expand the cultural aspect of my life because it has given me the opportunities to see other cultures. One way that the CSI Foundation has helped me with my studies is by providing me with a scholarship that has helped me pay off my books. The CSI Foundation allows me to get one step closer in achieving my highest potential in my education.

When choosing a college to attend, CSI stood out for a number of reasons. The first reason I chose to attend CSI was because of its location. As a college located close to my home, I was able to enjoy activities on campus as well as spending time with family. Secondly, I chose to attend CSI because of the ease of transition from high school to college. The advising center staff was friendly and informative, setting me on the path for success. The dual credits I received in high school transferred effortlessly. Thirdly, I chose to attend CSI for its availability of scholarships. Without the assistance of the CSI Foundation Board, funding my college education would have been difficult. Additionally, my acceptance into the CSI Honors Program allowed me to achieve my goal of pursuing a higher education while participating in a group that promotes striving to reach your personal best. CSI has exceeded my expectations as a community school through its high educational quality, superior availability of scholarships, and overall excellence as a college.
My name is Terry Sheaffer and I am a non-traditional student at the College of Southern Idaho. I chose CSI because it was close to my home and the tuition was affordable. I lacked the funding to be able to fund my own tuition and looked into help with financing my education. I was contacted by the honors program because of my grade point average that I earned at Boise State University in the 70’s. The honors program was looking for some non-traditional students to be part of the program, so I was asked to apply. With financial aid, and the scholarship afforded me by being part of the Honors program, I am able to focus on a new career path without the burden of finance. I am very honored that I was granted this funding and the ability to be part of something bigger than myself. I would like to take this opportunity to thank the scholarship board, and its directors, for this opportunity.
Devoney Wolfe
Twin Falls, Digital Media-Graphic Design

To be honest, the first time I chose CSI, it was out of convenience. I already lived in Twin Falls, and it was cheaper than trying to go someplace else. Though I grew up in Canada, I had already obtained residency in Twin Falls County, having lived here (with my grandparents) for a year before I decided to attend college. I was undecided about what to do with my life post-high school, and my grandparents encouraged me to give CSI a try. So I did. And I loved it. I began in the fall of 1999. Like many college students, I changed my major several times. All of this resulted in many interactions with various staff members, classes, and resources around campus. And I have to say, I was very favorably impressed. One of my favorite things about CSI back then was how small the class sizes were, relatively, and how easy the instructors were to work with, generally speaking. This helped me feel like I gained a footing more easily in an entirely new chapter in my life, and I enjoyed it immensely. I was sad to leave when I graduated with my AAS in Psychology in 2002.

Fast forward to 2009. I had gotten married in the intervening years, and my husband wanted to attend the nursing program here (at CSI) because he had heard lots of positive things about it. That part of the story is his; how it relates to me coming back to school here is different. We were trying to decide what I should do with myself while he attended school. My prospects with my current degree in Psychology hadn’t panned out as I had hoped, and he suggested I go back to school and get a degree to improve my employement skills in this curent economy. So I with gladness of heart (and a little trepidation—school again? at my age?!), I enrolled in the Digital Media program. And I have fully enjoyed it, for all the reasons I stated before, and because my ahem more mature age has given me the perspective and focus to set better goals for myself, both in school and for my future career. It has helped me work harder. All the teachers, advisors and other staff have been simply wonderful. The resources (software, computers, buildings, etc.) have been conducive, I feel, to a learning experience geared to preparing me for the work world today. The courses have been just challenging enough, yet truly inspiring. I am (I hope) realistic about my job opportunities once I graduate: I know it’s going to be tough to find work. Yet with my background at CSI, I feel confident that as I give it my all, I will succeed.

I didn’t work incredibly hard and push myself to the limits, but that I also owe a great deal of gratitude to the special individuals at CSI who helped me along the way. My art instructors were (and still are) a major source of inspiration, support and encouragement. They were key figures during those formative years as a young student, helping me see the potential I never thought I had. I was also fortunate to have received Foundation scholarships throughout my time at CSI, something that made the demands of balancing work and studies much easier.

Starting at CSI initiated a wonderful chain of events that opened doors I couldn’t have imagined were possible. The environment fostered there was one centered on a close-knit community of faculty and students who respected and encouraged each other. I received individual attention where my instructors were genuinely interested in my success. Their efforts provided me with a strong foundation through which to begin my own path towards becoming a professional artist and ultimately, a teacher. It gave me a clear picture of what I sought in an academic career and it’s one that I desire for the students I teach.

Angela Batchelor received her M.F.A from Boise State University in 2007. She grew up in Idaho, but currently calls Portland, Oregon home. She is a full-time Art Instructor at Portland Community College where she teaches courses in Basic Design and Printmaking.

A History of Giving

T.W. and Winifred Stivers were very community minded. T.W. was a respected businessman and enjoyed a long career in state and local government. Winifred was deeply involved in her children’s lives and in supporting many organizations in the Magic Valley. They were both avid lifelong learners, interested in different cultures, and traveled extensively to many different continents.

They also believed deeply in the power of an education. They established their first endowment in October of 1990. The T.W. and Winifred Stivers Endowment provides scholarships to CSI students with a 3.0 grade point average who have graduated from an Idaho High school or an Idaho resident who is an academic business major.

Following in their parents’ footsteps, Richard Stivers and Susan and Deskin Waters established the TitleFact, Inc. Scholarship Endowment named for the family’s business in 1994. This endowment provides scholarships to students who have a 3.0 grade point average who are enrolled in a curriculum leading to a degree, preferably in a business-related field. TitleFact, Inc. also made a very generous donation in 1999 to the Herrett Center for Arts and Science expansion project and has continued to be an annual donor to the CSI Foundation.

But T.W. and Winifred were not yet finished supporting the students at the College of Southern Idaho. They chose to use a planned gift as their final donation and established a Charitable Remainder Trust in the fall of 1994. T.W. wrote: “I hope that a continual growth in the following years during our lifetime will provide additional opportunities for education for our coming generations.”

Upon their mother’s passing in the fall of 2009, Richard B. Stivers and Susan Waters established the T.W. and Winifred Stivers “Prepare for Tomorrow” Scholarship with funds received from the Charitable Remainder Trust. These scholarships are available to students majoring in academic degrees and/or professional technical programs at CSI.

In honor of a lifetime of service and generosity, Rich Stivers wrote “T.W. and Winifred Stivers were long time supporters of the Foundation and it was their wish to continue this support after their deaths.” Their legacy truly lives on.

ACSCI Student Body President

My experience at the College of Southern Idaho has been phenomenal and a big part of that is because of the CSI Foundation. The scholarship that I received from the Foundation was an investment in my future, as it has allowed me to work less hours outside of school and spend time as the Student Body President. It is hard to come across scholarships during the current economy, but the College of Southern Idaho and the CSI Foundation make it extremely easy to afford a higher education. CSI is very lucky to have such a dedicated group working towards finding us more scholarships each year.
