As the sun begins to set on the College of Southern Idaho Foundation’s 30 year anniversary, we all collectively say “thank you.” Thank you for 30 years of kindness, philanthropy, and continued giving. Thank you for your continued support in providing young minds an opportunity to grow and realize their dream of a better life through a college degree.

While we celebrate one milestone, we ready for another. The College of Southern Idaho will celebrate its 50th anniversary during the coming year. In the Fall of 1965, Dr. James ‘Doc’ Taylor opened the College of Southern Idaho, home to the Golden Eagles, on the campus of Twin Falls High School. The rest, as many of you have seen, witnessed, and been a part of, is history. During these 50 years, the College of Southern Idaho has grown to meet the educational demands of our ever changing world. Our institution continues to offer scholastic programs to over 7,000 students from our main campus in Twin Falls, to our outreach centers in Burley, Jerome, Hailey, and Gooding. In 50 years the College of Southern Idaho has become the envy of community colleges across the country.

30 years ago our Foundation was formed on the pretense that we would help make college an affordable opportunity for those choosing to attend CSI. I stand before you and say we are accomplishing this goal. In 30 years we have grown our assets to well over $36 million, provided $17 million in scholarships, including this year, our best year of gifting, $1.7 million in total scholarships and grants awarded. Without you, our donors, these opportunities would not exist. Your help continues to provide good fortune for those who have goals and dreams of graduating from college.

On behalf of the College of Southern Idaho Foundation Board of Directors, I say “thank you.” Our plan for the future is to continue to protect the assets for which we are trusted and provide opportunities and dreams for those who seek an education at the best junior college in the country.

Scot McNeley, CSI Foundation President

This year, I opened the College of Southern Idaho’s Convocation to new students and their parents and friends with words from Walt Whitman’s Song of the Open Road, and I encouraged them to believe in the choice they had made to come to CSI as a first and important step in their journey to that larger place they will inhabit in the future.

Afoot and light-hearted I take to the open road,
Healthy, free, the world before me,
The long brown path before me leading where-ever I choose.

Donors like you have traveled your own open road, and you are now guides and mentors; your commitment to students is proof that their hopes can be realized. Foundation donors are the catalyst for so many of our new and returning students, for your contributions provide scholarships, practical and tangible support for our students. As important, though, is the fact that our students know beyond a shadow of a doubt they are valued, supported, and encouraged by people they may never have met, people who believe in the value of education and who understand how much philanthropy changes lives. In many cases, students would not be in college if not for your support. The CSI Foundation celebrates 30 wonderful years, and CSI Foundation’s success comes from prudent and diligent stewardship of your gifts. We help donors connect with our students. I thank you for your trust in the CSI Foundation and your tangible commitment to education.

Jeff Fox, CSI President
Four outstanding employee awards are awarded each year, two to outstanding faculty and two to outstanding staff. Awards consist of $1000 stipends presented by the CSI Foundation. Two faculty are nominated by students and two staff are nominated by fellow CSI employees.

This year’s Faculty awards went to Dr. RoseAnna Holliday (Outstanding Professional Technical Instructor of the Year) and Clark Draney (Outstanding Academic Faculty Member of the Year). The staff awards were given to Andrea Dayley (Classified Employee of the Year) and Sandra Wapinski (Professional Employee of the Year).
The Foundation also encourages innovative classroom delivery and faculty development by awarding Mini-Grants each year. Twenty-one grants totalling $45,417 were awarded in the 2013-2014 fiscal year.

Thanks to a mini-grant provided by the CSI Foundation, CSI is offering a unique STEM cooperative between CSI and local area high school students to participate in the FIRST Robotics Competition (FRC). We will be using students from engineering, programming, manufacturing, and information technology to build a competitive robot. Additionally, students majoring in business, communication, and digital media will be employed to help promote the robotics team during their competitions.

Competing in FRC engages students in Science Technology Engineering and Math (STEM) practical applications. FIRST is a nonprofit organization that sponsors high school robotics competitions worldwide (see http://www.usfirst.org). In a study by Brandeis University, students that participate in robotic competitions are 50% more likely to attend college and twice as likely to major in science or engineering (Heller School for Social Policy and Management, Brandeis University, 2011). Competitive robotics teaches students that problem solving can be fun and rewarding, which ultimately leads to productive, high earning technical careers.

This class was designed as a result from the success of TEAM Tesla, a Magic Valley robotics club that has received many state and national awards. However, finding sustainable funding for FRC competitions is difficult, so we redesigned the scope of the team to include college students that could mentor the high school students and provide the team with greater access to manufacturing equipment. Consequently, our new FRC team has received significant funding from NASA (in a grant written by the CSI Foundation) in addition to the minigrant. CSI students that are part of STEM 200 will also be eligible for $200,000 worth of STEM related scholarships that the NASA grant is providing. Look for results this coming March 2015, as our new FRC robotics team competes in the Utah FRC Regional.

The photos to the left were of TEAM Tesla from the 2012 FIRST Robotics Competition World Championships in St. Louis, Missouri. The competition required a robot that could shoot basketballs and balance on a seesaw bridge. The robot is driven wirelessly behind a control booth as seen in the photograph.
If you’re reading this newsletter from your desk at CSI, turn the clock back 50 years. Poof! You’re sitting in a farm field located decidedly north of Twin Falls. (And your computer just disappeared in that time jump!) Nevertheless, at this time in 1964, the College of Southern Idaho had just become official! Sixty-eight percent of Twin Falls County voters approved the creation of the new junior college district. Supporters couldn’t wait to have their own vocational and higher education opportunities right here at home. The following year, a whopping 89-percent of Jerome County voters said yes, too. Heady times indeed for this fledgling school.

In 1965, vocational classes started on Kimberly Road. Evening academic classes were held at the Twin Falls High School. Work began in 1967 on the Fine Arts building followed by the Shields and Maintenance buildings. And the rest, they say, is history. For all of that comprehensive, colorful CSI history, be sure to buy a copy of Dr. Jim Gentry’s history book that will be released later this year or early next. I promise, you’ll recognize many names in his interesting account of our college.

The CSI 50th Anniversary Committee – Jim Gentry, Jeff Fox, Deb Wilson, Kim Lapray, Kathy Deahl, and Doug Maughan – are working out celebration plans for 2015. Media stories, reflections from retirees, city proclamation, public art, commemorative keepsakes, parties for thousands, and more. We’ll be in touch with our students, patrons, and many supporters and friends to join us as we celebrate turning 50 in 2015!

At one point in my life I had little hope of completing any form of higher education. My family and children came first, and the thought of selfishly spending our hard earned money on an education was at the bottom of a long list of things to do. However, for the past 30 years, the generosity of the College of Southern Idaho Foundation has supported a countless number of students helping their dreams become a reality.

I found my place at the College of Southern Idaho and have truly learned the value of a higher education. Presently, I am close to completing an Associate degree in Criminal Justice, and have become a member of the Honors Program. I plan to continue my education at Boise State University in the fall of 2015 with hopes of obtaining a Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice. Without the assistance provided by the CSI Foundation I would never have had the opportunities to explore the world of criminal justice, obtain an internship with Twin Falls County Juvenile Probation, or strive for a career helping juvenile offenders turn their lives around. With sincere gratitude I thank the College of Southern Idaho Foundation for the scholarships that have helped offset the costs of my college education and allowed me to focus on learning, rather than worrying about how to afford it.

Upcoming 50 Year Celebration

If you’re reading this newsletter from your desk at CSI, turn the clock back 50 years. Poof! You’re sitting in a farm field located decidedly north of Twin Falls. (And your computer just disappeared in that time jump!)

At the beginning of freshmen year of High School, the dollars in my bank account were technically protected under the Endangered Species Act. I was not all that into the idea of college until I was introduced to CSI through a student Art exhibit in my junior year at High School. This glimpse of their campus and the people who attended and worked there was enough for me to want to learn more. Since that first look, I have taken several summer art classes, and have begun my first academic semester with the help of the CSI Foundation. If it weren't for this organization, I would not be attending college, as they made the difference between working a year and beginning my degree. A good thing considering an Engineering degree takes a little time to complete. I cannot express in the appropriate set of words how they have helped me, coming through on my applications when other sources did not. All I can say is that the fine people at the Foundation have helped thousands each year, and with thirty years on the books, they have a long history of helping students accomplish their goals here at CSI. In the event that you are awarded one of their scholarships, I ask that you do something to let them know how much you appreciate their help.

Send them a thank you, shake their hand, give something back when you are the next Bill Gates, just let them know you helped you.

Celebrating thirty years of giving! My thanks to CSI’s Foundation and all those who donate their time and money.

Over 60 and Getting Fit Program

by Shelly Wright, Over 60 and Getting Fit Director

Over 35 years ago, an amazing little exercise program started for older adults at a warehouse in downtown Twin Falls, with Jan Mittleider at the helm. The numbers were few but the participant numbers and program grew fast and became strong. Today that program has grown into two separate entities; the Active Aging Program and the Over 60 and Getting Fit Program. The Over 60 and Getting Fit class is one of the largest classes at CSI as well as across the nation. The two programs now have a new leader in Shelly Wright and enroll approximately 1500 older adults in a variety of exercise classes at 10 different locations each semester. The class choices are: The Over 60 and Getting Fit class, Yoga, Pilates, Tai Chi, Weight Training, Zumba Gold, Zumba Gold Toning and Spinning.

The goals of the programs are to encourage the overall well-being of older adults and to promote the possibilities of leading an enriched, independent, and productive life as they age. Not only do they exercise hard, but they play hard as well. The students might surprise you in the Student Union building, super market, or even at a basketball game doing a flash mob to one of their favorite “Oldies but Goodies” songs. You might also find them out on the Fitness Trail grooming it and picking up trash. This year the class successfully achieved the World Record of the Longest Line of Carved Pumpkins in the World!

Thank you to the CSI board, Administration, Foundation, employees and the communities for all the support you give this amazing program. Our pledge is to continue to grow and provide a safe atmosphere for older adults to blossom.

Angie Fillmore put her heart and soul into teaching music in the Twin Falls School District for more than forty years. She generously donated her time, as well as talent to the afterschool “Strings Alive” beginning orchestra program. Angie touched many lives with her passion for music and her dedication to the Magic Valley youth. She devoted her life to introducing and sharing the gift of music with young people and the community. When not teaching music she could be found playing music just about everywhere from the Magic Valley Symphony to area theater productions. Angie Fillmore passed away the 10th of September, 2013 from cancer.

Having been greatly inspired by her beloved violin instructor’s example, Katelyn Durham decided that for her senior project she wanted to create a music scholarship in Mrs. Fillmore’s honor that would help continue the musical legacy and help other eager young musicians. Throughout the fall of 2013 and spring of 2014, Katelyn worked with Deb Wilson and the CSI Foundation to establish the Angie Fillmore Music Scholarship Endowment Fund. To raise money for the fund, Katelyn, working alongside CSI staff and community members, hosted a Mini Golf for Music Education fundraiser. The fun, music-themed nine-hole course was interwoven throughout the CSI Library and provided individuals and families with a lot of laughter and entertainment before CSI’s spring semester launched into full swing.

Thanks to the generosity of the people of Magic Valley, more than $10,000 was raised through memorial donations and fundraising events. This scholarship ensures that Angie Fillmore’s legacy will live on for future generations of music students at the College of Southern Idaho.
Emmett and Vida Harrison Memorial

Fine Arts Building Sitting Area

The sitting area that is located in the southwest entry of the CSI Fine Arts building was created in memory of Emmett and Vida Harrison from their loving daughters, Marilyn and Patti.

The Harrisons’ purchased Theisen Lincoln Mercury in 1978 and grew it from a five person shop to a 50 employee business. Their dealership became the top Lincoln Mercury dealership in the nation for twelve years. Neither Emmett nor Vida attended college, yet they had strong beliefs in the benefits of a college education. Because of their beliefs, each of their three children: Jules, Marilyn, and Patti, received college degrees. Their beliefs were further demonstrated by the “Emmett & Vida Harrison Scholarship Endowment” that was established in 2010 by Vida for students who demonstrate perseverance and show a promise to succeed.

The scholarships awarded to students from the Harrisons will forever change the lives of the students and their families.

I cannot even begin to express how grateful I am for the CSI Foundation Scholarship and how much it has helped me toward my goal of receiving a college education. It has helped me pay for tuition and living expenses, making it possible for me to come to CSI and pursue a degree in Manufacturing Technology with my focus being on Machining. It can be hard to juggle work and school, all while trying to figure out how to make everything work financially. I wouldn’t have been able to pay for school if it hadn’t been for the CSI Foundation Scholarship. After growing up in the small town of Malta, Idaho, I knew I wanted to attend a smaller college. What I didn’t expect was how awesome CSI was going to be. The smaller classes make it feel more like home. They allow me to get to know more of my classmates and to learn the material better. I know I made the right decision to come to CSI.

This year the CSI Foundation is celebrating its 30 year anniversary. For 30 years it has been helping students just like me reach their goals and follow their dreams. I have no doubt that the CSI Foundation will be around for another 30 years.

Kamron Zollinger
The College of Southern Idaho has helped shape the person I am today. I am not only speaking of my education but about the professors and staff I have encountered along the way. I have never had so many people genuinely care about the outcome of my education or my life. I can say without a doubt that I am walking away from CSI with more than just a degree.

I am currently in the woodworking program at CSI and I have benefitted from the help of scholarships. I am married with two children and while my husband has a great job, it would be impossible for me to send our youngest to daycare and go to school full time without the help of the Foundation's scholarship. I will be graduating this semester and I am proud to have been on the Presidents and Deans lists throughout my two years at the college. I am president of the woodworking club and help organize a woodworking auction that benefits the students in the woodworking department. I have also submitted my work to local competitions and have had solo shows exhibiting my work. All of these recent achievements have been a product of my woodworking education. I am so grateful to have this opportunity to learn these new skills that will forever enhance my life. I could not have done this without the assistance of the Foundation's office and its wonderful staff!

I would like to sincerely thank you for the scholarship you presented me. It has always been a dream of mine to gain a college education and I appreciate your assistance in making that dream come to life. Thank you again, I thoroughly appreciate it!

If the New Hope Scholarship I would like to thank you for the scholarship that is being awarded to me to help continue my education. I am a single mother of five wonderful children. I would like to call all my children to graduate and be successful in their lives. So I decided I needed to set the example and go back and complete my GED. Even though I dropped out in the 9th grade and it’s been seventeen years since I last attended school I did not let that hold me back. I accomplished my goal and completed my GED. Now I’m attending my third semester in college, I’m excited to see where my journey takes me. Thank you.

Thank you very much for giving me this opportunity. I truly thank the committee that gave me this scholarship. It’s foundations like these that make a difference in people’s lives. Once again thank you for this opportunity and in assisting me in my education and future.

Please except my deepest gratitude for the scholarship you have awarded us, these funds ensure that my girls can continue to receive the outstanding love, and care from the staff at the CSI Child Care Center. I have looked far and wide and these ladies are by far the most amazing people I have come across, it would truly be a sad day to lose our place there, so again I thank you with every fiber of my being for doing the work that you do.

I am forever indebted to you.

I have to write an extra Little note to tell you guys that I think you are just amazing! I have referred so many people to CSI because you have an outstanding program but mostly because the staff is truly a special cast of ladies, you all go above and beyond to care for my girls and no words could ever express my gratitude.

Thank You

Thank you so much for the Scholarship funds provided by the Ted Sandmeyer Memorial Nursing Scholarship fund. I love the Medical Assisting program even though going back to school has been a challenge. Every little bit is very much appreciated. Thank you so much!

More words will never be enough to express how grateful I am, but I hope you will see how much of a difference you’ve made for a student like me. Thank you again.

Employee Giving

As I begin my 21st year as a member of the CSI faculty, I can look back at all the students I have taught through the years and think, “How many of these students would I have had the opportunity to help along their career paths if there was no financial assistance that would allow them to attend CSI?” Among these students, one lived out of her car for part of the time she was a student here, another was the single mother of three teenagers, yet another was a veteran dealing with PTSD and trying to move forward after some poor life choices, several were battling health challenges, several more found themselves middle-aged and single after raising families, and quite a number more were refugees building a new life in the U.S. after escaping discrimination and violence in their birth countries. Because of the CSI Foundation, these people have had the opportunity to improve their lives through education.

Particularly in our part of the state, primarily rural and with limited opportunities for good-paying jobs, CSI is a gateway to the world for very many people. The educational opportunities that our institution provides for our citizens allow them to see far beyond the Magic Valley, but at the same time provides them the means to stay in our area by choice rather than by financial necessity. Melanie and I treasure every day that we live and work in Southern Idaho, and our support of the CSI Foundation is just one way that we can give back to the community.

CSI Foundation Assets

Asset management is an important function of the Foundation. It includes oversight of investments and a balancing of long-term strategies. Optimizing the annual disbursement of scholarship dollars while enhancing the value of core resources is important. Over the years, and under careful management, the Foundation has been able to disburse scholarships while increasing its assets.

Please contact the Foundation office to request a copy of the 2013-2014 audit.

As a high school student, I never would have imagined being a part of the honors program in college. I never knew I had the opportunity to be a part of such an amazing group, until Mr. Brian Dobbs allowed me to see that I can do anything that I put my mind to. Thanks to the CSI Foundation, I was able to listen to Mr. Dobbs speak in February of 2014, when I was invited to attend Scholar’s Day at CSI. Scholar’s Day was made to “Congratulate and recognize the outstanding honor students throughout the Magic Valley and provide information about admissions, scholarships, CSI honors program... and campus tour” (CSI Website). This was the day that I heard Mr. Dobbs speak so passionately and informatively about the honors program here at CSI. I became so fascinated and encouraged that I applied and I got accepted to be a part of something greater with an incredible group of people. The scholarship that comes with being a part of the honors program, which is also awarded by the CSI Foundation, is just icing on the cake. I am so very grateful for this foundation and their 30 years of giving thus far. I know they have provided a stepping stone for me on my path to success and words of gratitude cannot be enough.

When I was researching CSI and the various programs they offered I stumbled across the Honors Program. I applied because I thought it would be a great opportunity to meet new people who share my same interests and love of knowledge. The Honors Program has been a blessing to me. I am very grateful that I was able to receive the CSI Foundation Scholarship, and that wonderful programs, such as honors, are offered here at CSI.

Without the CSI Foundation Scholarships, reaching my goal of getting into the registered nursing program here at CSI would be difficult. After I obtain my registered nursing degree I plan on transferring to Idaho State University to continue my nursing education and to hopefully get into a nurse practitioner program. I can’t thank you enough CSI Foundation for your wonderful generosity towards the students of CSI and for all the opportunities you have provided for me.

Higher education is one of the most important endeavors a person can undertake in his or her lifetime. In my case, the love of chemistry and building things has caused me to pursue chemical engineering. Unfortunately, this is a very time consuming task and like so many other students, I cannot afford to work a full time job while attempting to learn all that is necessary for my degree. The amount of worry which has plagued my education over finances has been greatly reduced by the College of Southern Idaho’s Foundation Scholarships. Without these scholarships, there is no doubt that I would not be able to attend school and further my education. I am very grateful to them for selecting me to be a recipient; their financial assistance has allowed me to pursue my dream. Furthermore, I am also indebted to the men and women who have donated to the Foundation Scholarships. Over the past 30 years, these fine people have helped many students and I am proud to be one of them. Thank you!

It was a very fortunate opportunity for me to attend CSI. I am very thankful for all the scholarship money that the CSI Foundation has given me. This is my first year attending CSI and it’s been great. All the assistance members and teachers have provided have helped me a lot with my hardship. They were so helpful to me since the beginning of the year. My gratitude toward the president and Honors Program would be above and beyond the ordinary. Without a grant from FAFSA and the scholarships from New Hope and Honors Program, it would be so hard for me to attend college. I am so thankful for such a great community that we have around here. CSI is the best college.

I am majoring in Sociology. After I get my major here, I plan to work in a place where it is related to service and help out the poor people who struggle with the English Language.
